

Music and frequencies for healing.

Introduction

In God's conception the universe is created, in the immensity of the universe, man is conceived. Within the limits of men, his mind is capable of creating, in his minuscule journey through the vastness of time, man questions himself repeatedly: What is my mission in life? Who are we and where are we going?

And then, in man's universe, his spirit will be set free seven before 2000, to speak with the divine.

This project started in 1993, here follows a brief explanation of some themes in this course "Music and frequencies for healing"

The sacred names

The Bible says: In the beginning there was the Word. The Word was with God, and the Word was God. We will explain how the vibration of this language formed by the sacred names and the biblical names of God, elevate our conscience's level. God's Hebrew name, YHVH, has very special genetic and linguistic characteristics. These words are formed so they can create energetic reactions. They develop by themselves extremely high vibration frequencies, that way, by being pronounced, they elevate our vibration levels. This way they protect us and create a divine synchronization.

Sacred geometry

There are other kinds of vibrations, in this case, visual ones, composed by colors and forms. Their energy allows the evolution of conscience through order and balance reflected in nature's geometric and perfect figures.

These laws that command the natural constructions allow us to appreciate the exactitude with which world created life, long before we arrived to it. By learning to identify and knowing how to reproduce this divine proportions can help us develop both hemispheres of our brains and activate our physical, emotional and spiritual connections. We will understand how the human body is an example of the phi number, this is the perfect proportion found in cells, atoms, minerals, plants, and animals. Through these constructions, based on sacred geometry, life has been conceived.

The chakras

These are the energy generators positioned in different parts of our bodies, through which we can balance our surroundings. There are seven chakras, and each one is linked to a color and a vibratory frequency. We will explain the characteristics of the root chakra, the spleen, solar, heart, throat, brow, and crown chakras. These energy vortexes generate active canals that if used properly, can help us maintain control of our body, mind and spirit.

The sounds of space

If vibratory frequencies are generated in the entire universe, our body is a kind of antenna that has the ability to feel them and vibrate with them, but in space there is no air, how can we hear what is going on? We will explain the series of experiments that a group of scientists from NASA did. They found a series of zones surrounding the planets where many waves and vibrations are produced. These are received by microwave equipment that turns them into audible sound for humans.

We will explain how intensity of the magnetic fields of planets such as Jupiter, Saturn, and Neptune, create a kind of variety of sounds in perfect harmony, proving thus that the universe is an immense celestial orchestra.

Thank you for your attention, we await for you in the course "Music and frequencies for healing".
